

Mercari Price Analysis - Data Analysis - Brands of products, and the price of products

- Another important property of each product is what brand it belongs to - if any - as the brand would most likely have an effect on the price

- The attribute of most interest is the price attribute, which is the price of the underlying product.

