

Mercari Price Analysis - Data Analysis - Shipping fee and the name of each product

- For each product bought and sold on the platform, there is an associated shipping fee that is either paid by the buyer or the seller - what is its distribution?

- Each product has an associated name, which is used to present the product listing to the potential buyer. Potentially, the words used in the name can be of interest in modelling the product's underlying price

